

The Daily Courant.

Monday, September 17. 1722.

London, September 17.
On Saturday arrived a Mail from Flanders.

Cádiz, August 28.

THE Ships that are designed to sail to Bacos Ayres arrive here daily to take in their Lading against the Time required by the Court. Advices from Gibraltar say, that the Dutch Squadron was again sailed from thence a cruising against the Algerines. All the Masters of Ships that are lately arrived here affirm that they have not met any Corsairs.

Rome, Sept. 1. The Court has given Leave to the Country People in the Neighbourhood of Porto-Longone, to repel the Garrison of that Place by Force, as often as they give the Island any Disturbance. The French and Spanish Courts have notified to the Grand Duke the Prince Don Carlos's Marriage with Mademoiselle de Beaujolais, the daughter of Orleans's Daughter.

Vienne, Sept. 8. The Emperor holds frequent Cabinet Councils, and 'tis observed that before he assists at them, he examines with Prince Eugene the Affairs that are to be there deliberated, especially those touching the Diet of Presbourg, and the Preservation of publick Peace. The Pope's Nuncio received an Express the 30th Instant from Rome, and had an Audience of the Emperor the next Day, to represent the Danger the Island of Malta is threatened with from the Turks. Advices from the Diet in Hungary are not so favourable as could be wish'd, most of the Popish Deputies strongly insisting that the Protestants may not be allowed more Privilege in exercising their Religion than is allowed them in other Popish Kingdoms and States. But his Imperial Majesty having, in a publick Audience granted here to the Deputies of the Protestant Palatinates before the opening of the Diet, given verbal Assurance that they should be maintained and defended in their ancient Rights and Privileges in Church-Affairs as well as others, and should not be oppressed by their Countrymen of the Popish Communion; he has sent Instructions to the Cardinal de Saxe-Zeits, Primate of Hungary, to press the Popish Deputies not to insist longer upon establishing such like Innovations. M. Berlog, the Imperial Resident at the Ottomans Port, has sent two Memorials hither, one being from the Inhabitants of the Island Chio, which the Turks took away 20 Years ago from the Venetians; and the other, from the little Republick of Ragusa in Dalmatia: In the first, the Christian Inhabitants complain bitterly of the Turkish Persecutions, who, not contented with demolishing their Churches, have absolutely forbid them the Exercise of their Religion, and thrown their Bishops and Priests into Prison, pretending that they endeavour to convert Turks to Christianity, and have forcibly taken a Mahometan to be baptized: But the Truth is, the circumcised Person voluntarily offered himself to be baptized, which they could not refuse him. The other Memorial sets forth That the Turks form new Pretensions, and exact a larger Tribute than they have ever yet been accustomed to give, threatening in Case of Refusal, to raise it by Force, and to demolish their Government: Both Parties supplicating the Resident to represent their State to the Emperor, and to use his good Offices with the Imperial Court for Redress, his Imperial Majesty has caused the Memorials to be examined in Council, himself being present, and it was resolved to interceed for both with the Grand Signior, altho' the Republick of Ragusa is said not to deserve it much, being used to change Alliance with every Wind of Interest, sometimes seeking Protection from the Turks, and desiring sometimes to be protected by Christians.

Hambourg, Sept. 17. Advices from Sweden say, that the King continues in the Province of Bahus-Lehen, and has reviewed the Cavalry in those Parts: The Queen is at Gottenbourg; and the King designing to visit the Fortifications of Maelfstrand, her Majesty will stay at Gottenbourg till the King returns. Letters from Stockholm say, the Warehouses that were building there for the Russian Merchants being finished, Commerce was already begun, and that a great Quantity of Meal newly arrived from Petersbourg has been sold very cheap. Ships also from Livonia and other Parts arrive daily at Stockholm, laden with Corn, and two Transport-Ships arrived there lately with a good Number of Swedish Prisoners from Muscovy.

Paris, Sept. 19. The following Extract of the Advices received by the Court relating to the Plague, has been communicated to the Foreign Ministers.

The Duke de Rohan-Lanoue, M. de Bernage, and M. de Rothe, in their Letters of the 7th of September, advise, that a Man died almost suddenly of the Plague the 1st of this Month, in a House near the Town of Mende where he was a Servant; all the Household Goods and Cloaths in that House were burnt: The House was separated by a Garden from his Master's; all the Persons in the Master's House with whom that Servant had conversed, were put under Quarantine. There was but one Person in the Infirmary at Mende, and that Person was on the Recovery. According to the Letters of the commanding Officers in the several Places of the Gervaudan, all the rest of that Country was in good State of Health; as were also those Parts of the Dioceses of Viviers, Uzès, and Alais inclose within the Lines.

Provence.

Provenç. M. de Milon Brigadier of Foot at Marseille, in his of the 31st of September writes, that from the 17th of August that City had enjoyed perfect Health: The Hospital for Persons sick of the Plague was cleared, none dying or falling sick of contagious Distempers. The first Quarantine in the neighbouring Country ended the 31st, without any suspicion of Infection. M. de Langeron was giving Orders for performing the general Disinfection, pursuant to the Directions he had received: If no contagious Sickness happen during that Performance, this Kingdom and Provinces may trade to Marseille with all Safety. M. de Bret in his of the 6th of September writes, that nine Persons who remained in the Hospital called la Charité at Marseille, were growing quite well, and ready to go out of it; there remained likewise four Men and one Woman under Quarantine: In general, the State of Health there was never better.

The Comtat and the Principality of Orange. M. de Vedrilie writes the 4th of September, that all Accounts from Avignon agree, that for several Days there had none fallen ill or had died of the Contagion: They were very carefully disinfecting the Houses where the Distemper had been, and performing the others; the like was done in the Houses in the Country, though for a long Time no Accident had happened. It was likewise advised, that there was no infectious Distemper at Vedenne, and that by the Care of M. Toncaud Montoux, it would soon be as clear as all the rest of the Country, which is in perfect Health. M. de Vedrilie has sent a Letter from a Physician at Orange, advising, that that Town would speedily be put into a Condition not to fear any Relapse, by the Care of M. de Chârsel.
